A Student's Prayer

Lord, grant me now an open mind,
Receptive, eager, quick to learn
The truths my teachers would impart;
Give me the wisdom to discern

The right from wrong; give me the power
To concentrate; give me Your sure,
Strong light of Truth to guide my way
Through passages that seem obscure;

And let me know that You are near
When I must go to face a test;
Erase my every thought of fear;
Help me, Lord, to do my best.

Bless my teachers. Speak through them
In clear and loving words and give Them the selfless joy that comes
From having helped a soul to live.

Help me retain what I have learned
And use the wisdom I possess
To reach my goal, to build a life
Of service and of happiness.

— James E. Sweeney

Foreword

Greeting the reader from the cover of the Gleam is Janus, the two-headed god signifying the theme of this yearbook, "Behind us knowledge . . . before us opportunity." Janus is typical of the motivating force which inspires William Chrisman students. The successful individual realizes learning is to be applied not only in the present, but later in life.

The 1961 Gleam is the pictorial account of students using previous education but ever gaining knowledge through continued opportunities during the school year. It will remain a living memory for students throughout their lives.

High School Song

Faithful and true hearted,
Let us cheer our dear "Old High."
We revere her and defend her,
And her colors proudly fly;
We will stand for her united,
Of her deeds we gladly tell.
Her colors streaming,
Glad faces beaming,
So here's a cheer for her, for her we love so well.

Chorus

Joyous and ever loyal,
Let us boast for our "Old High."
Let every heart sing,
Let every voice sing,
There's no time to grieve or sigh;
It's ever onward, our course pursuing,
Let defeat ne'er our ardor cool,
But united, we will boast for her,
Our own high school.

II

Honors she has taken,
On the track and with the ball,
May she always rank the highest,
May her colors never fall;
There's no other that can match her,
When her team is on the field,
Her boys the fleetest,
Her girls the sweetest,
Then here's a cheer for her, for her who ne'er will yield.

"Not of the sunlight,
Not of the moonlight,
Not of the starlight,
O, young mariner,

Down to the haven,
Call your companions,
Launch your vessel
And crowd your canvas,
And, ere it vanishes
O'er the margin,

After it, Follow it,
Follow the Gleam."
— Tennyson

Exchange Student

Pictured is Helge while encountering some new experiences. Eating watermelon, graduating, and possessing a locker highlighted his year in America.

Helge Rinholtm, commonly known as "Butch" by his classmates, spent a year as William Chrisman's exchange student. Coming from Kristiansand, Norway, Helge found life in America different, yet interesting and pleasant.

In Norway he pursued an active interest in horticulture and botany. However, his future plans include a probable career as a linguist. Helge wants to attend either the University of Oslo or the University of Copenhagen.

Learning a foreign language from Mr. Boyd is a new experience for students of Division II.

Administrative

Guiding Chrisman students in the acquisition of knowledge are administrators and teachers who evidence the values of real scholarship. They help students lay a firm foundation for taking their places as worthwhile citizens by their dedication to guiding the formulation of future leaders' ideas and thoughts.

At commencement, seniors receive diplomas which indicate that they have completed twelve years of study. These have provided a wealth of information and many experiences for applying it. Graduates may truly cherish the thoughts, behind us knowledge, before us opportunity.

Personnel

Board of Education

Members of the Board of Education meet in regular session the second Tuesday of each month to transact the regular business of the school district. They often meet in special sessions to consider the many problems of the Independence school system.

This group of individuals give of their time and efforts to plan for a better educational system. The problem which faced them during this year was housing the ever increasing number of students in the Independence School district.

Administrative Assistant

Dr. Guy Carter as administrative assistant aids Dr. Plucker in the supervision of the Independence school district. He is in charge of teaching personnel, transportation and pupil attendance. His other duties are in the areas of school finance, school law, state reports and other statistical information as assigned to him by the superintendent of schools.

Dr. Guy Carter came to Independence in 1954, after receiving his Doctor's Degree in Public School Administration from the University of Missouri. He had previously served as a high school teacher and coach; he was superintendent of the Manfield, Missouri, public schools.

Dr. Carter sincerely believes that school life should be an enjoyable and happy experience for all students.

The nucleus of the school system

Emory C. Parks
Director of Instruction

Emory C. Parks, director of instruction, has worked in the Independence School system since 1941. During that time he has served as counselor in the Junior high, as vice-principal of William Chrisman for a year, as principal at Ott Secondary school and as principal of William Chrisman Division II.

In his capacity as director of instruction, Mr. Parks supervises committees who decide upon suitable books for courses, specifies the boundaries of school districts and determines the teaching schedule for each of the schools.

In addition, he confers with teachers to decide upon how deficient and excelling students may be separated to facilitate and development of more active minds in accelerated courses while slower students may be helped in remedial classes. Mr. Parks plans curriculum to fit these needs. When a new subject is introduced in the schools, Mr. Parks is responsible for the progress made.

The doors of opportunity are open to the students of William Chrisman because of the fine background laid by the director of instruction. Mr. Parks' job is to lay the background curriculum for the entire school system.

Dr. O. L. Plucker, Superintendent of Independence school system plans with the Board of Education in directing the school activities and the future for the Independence school district. Dr. Plucker has been a member of the system for one decade. His childhood education was received in Emery, South Dakota. From there he went to Augestine college, the University of South Dakota and the University of Colorado.

He believes that increasing the number of faculty members and improving the facilities goes hand in hand with preparing the student for the coming tasks.

He further believes: "Young men and women launching out beyond the shelter of home and school, today face both the greatest peril and the greatest opportunity of any group in recorded history. It is our sincere hope that the basic knowledge they have gained will serve as a foundation for the vastly expanded learnings needed in years to come. Only as knowledge grows will opportunity, and the ability to grasp it, come to the graduates."

Students at Chrisman can look back at the knowledge they have gained and see before them opportunities.

Superintendent

labors to provide opportunities

Sedulous workers, the administrative secretaries, keep personal records of the students as well as individual bus reports. At the superintendent's office, these women kept the business aspect of a school system in smooth running order.

Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Sharon, and Mrs. Testerman helped greatly in the administrative office. Their skill and proficiency were invaluable to the efficiency of the Independence School System.

Mrs. Louise Davis

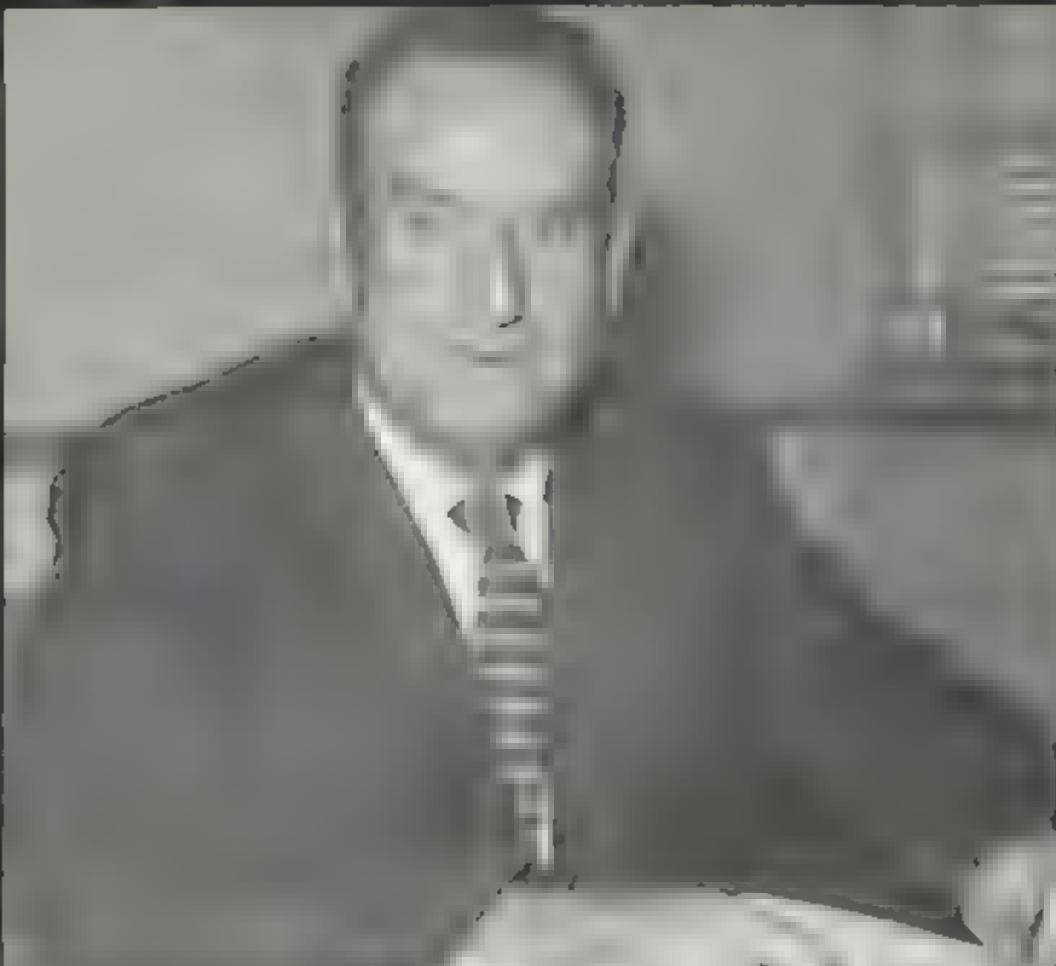

Mrs. Dorothy Sharon

Mrs. Betty Testerman

Administrators

Joseph F. Benson, Division I principal, is very genuine and sincere in aiding students to complete their high school career. Mr. Benson, an athlete himself, is deeply interested in the school's athletic program which helps join the two divisions in spirit.

Mr. Benson, principal at William Chrisman Division I, has been connected with the Independence school system for eight years. He is a member of the Rotary club.

The ambition and desires of the students is Mr. Benson's wish, and he does everything possible to aid each student in reaching them.

Joseph F. Benson
Principal, Division I

Mrs. Bonnie Allin
Attendance Secretary

Mrs. Vernita Bender
Secretary

Mrs. Marjorie Conus
Office Manager

Gregory Lefever, vice-principal of Division I, supervises the keeping of attendance records, collecting and classifying data for future use and making of periodic reports. Mr. Lefever is also the principal of the seventh grade housed in the annex.

In his position as vice-principal, Mr. Lefever has had experience in observing the value of knowledge and opportunity. "As has been said so many times in the past few years, this is an era of knowledge. The era in which knowledge is recognized for its practical utilitarian worth; its dollars and cents worth and even its being the prime requisite for our very survival.

"Important as this all may seem, there is something far more valuable — wisdom. Knowledge, of course, supports wisdom but without understanding, judgment and discernment, knowledge can be dangerous.

"What is there to say of opportunity, other than it is limitless, boundless and ever reaching beyond widest imagination. We can only approach it with the help of all the knowledge we can amass, applied with wisdom."

Gregory L. Lefever
Vice-Principal, Division I

set goals

Edward Shelton, Division II principal, attended Northwest Missouri State college, the University of Colorado and the University of Southern California to attain his higher education.

Before coming to Independence he was principal of the Caruthersville, Missouri, high school. Prior to his position as principal of Division II he was principal of the Independence junior high school for two years.

"Every structure must have a foundation on which to build. The stronger the foundation the greater the structure can become. As we have gained knowledge our foundation has been broadened. This enables us to approach the future much better equipped to grasp a variety of opportunities and in this period of tremendous progress, opportunities are unlimited."

Aiding these men are the valuable secretaries who check attendance, write correspondence and help the relations between students and principals at both divisions. Running an efficient office is the responsibility of the secretaries at both divisions. Mrs. Bendet is secretary to Mr. Benson, Mrs. Allin attendance secretary and Mrs. Conus is office manager at Division I, Mrs. Holladay is secretary to Mr. Shelton, and Mrs. Woirhaye is attendance secretary at Division II.

Edward Shelton
Principal, Division II

Mrs. Mary Holladay
Secretary

Mrs. Alice Woirhaye
Attendance Secretary

Leroy Brown
Vice Principal, Division II

Mr. Leroy Brown, vice-principal at Division II, entered the education field primarily because he enjoyed working with young people and the challenge they presented. He realizes as do most educated men, that the importance of learning is for tomorrow's life.

"Just as our world today has been influenced by the past, so the world tomorrow will be influenced by the present. We have the opportunity to know and to draw freely on the experiences of the past; the privilege of using this knowledge to live in the present, and the responsibility to make worthwhile contributions to the future. As we learn and make use of the knowledge and wisdom of generations past, we become an important part in shaping generations to come. Is there a greater challenge?"

Mrs. Florence Brush, Spanish teacher at Division I, shows Miss Jane Atchison and Kenneth Cline a Mexican straw horse which is one of the mementoes of her trips to Mexico. This is Miss Atchison's first year of teaching health at Division I. Mr. Cline is in mechanical drawing.

During their free time, students enjoy an informal conversation in the teacher's office during their recess hour. Jerry Densmore, who teaches science, appears to be taking interest in what Mrs. Carmen Reed and Mrs. Ruby Garrard are telling him. Mrs. Reed teaches mathematics, Mrs. Garrard citizenship. This is Mrs. Reed's first year in the Independence Schools.

Classes of William Chrisman share a unity of purpose by which they are guided toward success, the prime end of attaining knowledge. In their progression from freshman to senior, they are encouraged to pursue their interests. A broad curriculum is offered to tempt the intellectual ability of the students. Each student played an integral part in the story of the 1960-1961 school year. Acquired knowledge, shared experiences and devoted friendship have broadened his horizons.

Subtracting decimals in Mrs. Maude Lewis' general mathematics class are Larry Dobbins, Joy Holmes, Lorene Pinkerton and Robert Clark. This course includes the basic fundamentals of mathematics.

Linda Bailey, Terry Keaton, Bill Chilson, Rogene Gibbs and Marlene Harley take the Kuder Preference Record to check vocational interests. This is the preliminary step to the development of the vocational unit in citizenship.

Bill Leach, Merle Shafer (science teacher), Patsy Powell, Margaret Runion and Sandy Langevin study the planetarium to show relationships and movements between the sun, earth and moon.

Building qualities of leadership

The class officers, Doug Craig, Sherry O'Dell, Linda O'Connor and Terri Zander, have informal meeting after school.

Elected class officers of the sophomore class were Doug Craig, Division I vice-president, Sherry O'Dell, president of the sophomore class, Linda O'Connor, secretary, and Terri Zander, treasurer. These students are members of the sophomore publications class who assist the senior staff in selling subscriptions, gathering material and distributing the paper and yearbook.

Holding the office of vice-president is Doug Craig. He has been active in baseball and basketball. He hopes to further this interest and become a professional baseball player. Doug has served on student council this year as a member of the elections committee; he helped with the mock elections.

Serving as president of the sophomore class was Sherry O'Dell. Sherry is also president of the Division II student council, president of the third hour general business class and an active member of Pep club. To attend Central Missouri State college to prepare for a career as a seventh grade math teacher is her plan for the future.

Linda O'Connor, secretary of the sophomore class, was active in Pep club and girls' choir. She served as faculty chairman for the choir this year. Her future ambition is to attend the University of Missouri.

Elected treasurer of the sophomore class was Terri Zander. Terri has also served as a cheerleader this year, Pep club member, president of the Division II Spanish club and president of her homeroom. She is uncertain about her choice of college but wants to be a social service worker.

Leaders, elected by their classmates

Serving as president of the senior class for 1961 is Willard Arnold. He is a student council representative and a member of Future Teachers of America. Since Willard is co-captain of the football team and active in sports, he is also the vice-president of C club. His favorite classes are Spanish and sociology. His college plans are to attend Maryville State college.

David Taggart is serving as vice-president. He is a member of C club and plays second string varsity football. David plans to attend Central Missouri State college. His favorite classes this year are psychology and speech.

Chosen for secretary this year was Charlotte Dieckman. She was a student council alternate, member of Future Teachers of America and the As-You-Like-It Dramatic society. Charlotte also serves as secretary in the National Thespian society. Charlotte's future plans are to attend Central Missouri State college and major in English or American literature.

Janice Gillespie served as treasurer of the 1961 graduating class. She has been an active cheerleader for the past four years in high school. In her senior year she was head cheerleader. Janice reigned over the homecoming game as queen. Janice has no definite plans for the future.

over all" & "the world".

I went to the new house yester-

Every year is our school year is almost over, but it's now too till graduation.
We were as lost west and on fixed grade, and finally find your ~~at~~ another girlfriend this summer. (You ought to with all the neat looking clubs running around.)
Good luck to you and your car this summer and in future ~~year~~. And don't get any tickets. Good luck in College.

Courses pursued have been instrumental in developing the students' minds. The variety of courses offered and the variety of environments for learning provided have supplied the necessary diversity of interests for forming a secure background for future learning. Each subject has contributed to the learner's store of knowledge—knowledge leading to opportunity. The offering of a comprehensive range of courses and the provision of up-to-date facilities and equipment serve to better prepare every one for his life role.

Chrisman is meeting the challenge of the present age by presenting a wide variety of subject matter.

Providing very valuable leadership

Excelling in precision and timing stand as the key to a good rifle team. Members of the William Chairman Army Reserved Officers' Training Corps Rifle Team accomplish this. In the regular shooting practices, in which all cadets participate, boys are observed and their marksmanship appraised.

The rifle team does not merely strive for perfection they have ample opportunity to compare their own marksmanship to that of army ROTC cadets of other schools. Men shoot two shoulder to shoulder matches with all Kansas City high schools having rifle teams and two with Central high school of St Joseph. Tournaments in which the cadets participated were: the Kansas State University Turkey Shoot, David Collier Invitational Tournament at Joplin, Missouri, Little Camp Perry Invitational Matches at Kemper Military Academy in Boonville, Missouri. All these experiences develop good character and encourage perseverance in the participating boys.

Reserve Officers' Training Corps maintains high precision and accuracy in drilling and marching. Boys especially interested in drilling may try out for the team and qualified cadets are then selected to be on the Pathfinders Drill team.

The team was honored with invitations to march in the Veterans' Day parade and the annual Halloween parade of Independence. They performed for many groups and occasions suitable for such exhibitions. The Pathfinders compose the Eleventh United States Army Corps Commander Honor Guard. Another activity of the team was competition in the University of Missouri State Drill Meet.

The sponsors were chosen on poise and personality by popular vote of the ROTC cadets from the respective companies.

The twenty-sixth annual ROTC Ball was held May 12 in the Division I gymnasium. The theme and decorations were planned and executed by the cadets.

Demonstrations abet scientific scope

Many New York third grade students seem more ready for science than ever before. More and more parents are becoming interested in what their children are learning in science class.

The main reason for this interest is probably the new emphasis placed on science in the schools. This emphasis has been brought about by the power of television.

Practical training

Left: Students in a classroom. Below: Practical training in the mechanics' shop at the Technical University of Berlin.

First hour Speech I students, Judy Turner, Carol Morton, Linda Norris, Terry Keeton, Nikita Farris and Princess Pine, present the pantomime, "Commercials."

Billy Farmer, Doug Weber, Bill Allen, Steve Hatch and Everett Hershman demonstrate basic gestures learned early in the Speech I course taught at Division II by Miss Grace Rowe.

"Teen Age Gong" is the title of the pantomime enacted by fifth hour Speech I students, Deanna Standley, Carole Miner, Brenda Salisbury, Jim Megerson, Judy Sanders and Evelyn Young.

Division II students study speech style

Eileen Cook, Lonnie Billard, Terry Thomas, Jean Shields, Sharon Kruger and Barbara Winget, second hour Speech I students, perform the pantomime "The Beatnik Party."

Virginia Coleman, Carolyn Corley, Clara Fewax, Kathy McKay, Sherry Hochler, David Mason, Ann Mesta, Mike Oliver, Karen Parker and Karen Randall Speech I students, study their textbooks to learn the basic techniques.

Students' minds wander in the brief respite between classes. That five minutes is their own, and they use it to the utmost. Walking in their midst, random snatches of conversation can be heard.

Chrisman halls harbor many memories

Corridors are important in student life. They are continuous sign boards which keep the students acquainted with "what's new" at school. Dances and games are announced and other signs are simply spirit boosters.

Sally Hart, Linda Willard and Sherry Willard were hostesses at the "Back-to-School Night" sponsored by the Parent Teacher Association September 22 at Division I. The girls served refreshments to the parents and teachers. Linda and Sherry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Willard, were the chairmen of the hospitality committee.

Sharon Gibson discusses advanced rules of grammar with James Ollar, Phyllis Weeks and Richard Kramer in Miss Verna Ott's second hour English IV class. Students in English IV classes use the grammar rules often as they write many papers in preparation for college English.

Classwork strengthens capabilities —

Juniors, Donnetta Austin, Dinah Highley, Judy Magee, Diane Sharon and Pat Motzl longingly admire the senior announcement display in the front hall trophy case. They dream of the day a year hence when they will be placing their orders for cards, announcements, etc.

Cherene Wissom, Anna Himes, Le Lynsay S., & Perry Pearce, Hughes, Teddy Young and Herbert May, amuse notes and save magazines during Mrs. Davis' Cooksters seventh hour English class. This was one prize at the art contesting magazines.

and widens horizons

Freshman English students study the Rome of the Ancient Roman Empire during the year. Mrs. Le Stanley's English classes prepared a map showing the route of the Roman March. Netherfield, Mrs. Snapp, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cernott from the area taught the class.

Mrs. Angma is the home of Freda King's skirt. May Jane K. Johnson finds the pattern for a blouse. Sue Ann Corbin and Marie A. Bird are busy sewing the skirts. These are the members of Mrs. Nevada DeGarmo's home economics class.

Home economics and speech encourage

Kathy Mae Clegg and Carolyn Anna Eversley B. Clegg and Ruth Sanders are in the first stages of baking as they cut out patterns and measure flour. This is a part of the home economics course. Mrs. Mary Ratner, director, gives helpful advice during the class.

Learning to prepare and serve dinner is another important part of Home Economics. Making Tedrick's sixth grade class enjoy the meal and well and good. Butter up the dishes and I mean the men. Right? Here and there, Mrs. Ratner, the old tea cake in the oven, Linda A. and Mary C. start the cooking.

Virginia Ingram, Janell Ewing and Linda Darling separate office grade cards for probable candidates for the National Honor society. Cards of higher ranking students are checked carefully after the first semester grades have been recorded to select the upper one-third of the senior class and the upper ten percent of the junior class. These names are submitted to the faculty for ratings in the categories of character, leadership and service.

individuality and a desire to serve

"W. bur Takes His Medicine" a one-act play is produced by Lynda Cusseman, Beverly Johnson, Bertha Cox, Janice Arnold and Skip Olson. They are members of Mr. Ralph Behnke's seventh hour speech class at Division II. Participating in stage productions develops confidence and poise in students.

Chrisman Bears ended a successful season by winning the Pony Express conference title with a 7-1-2 record.

The bears defeated Van Horn, Northeast, Benton, Lafayette Lillis, Central and Ruskin. They tied their two arch rivals, North Kansas City and Raytown. Their season ended on a disappointing note for Chrisman as Center gave them their only defeat of the entire season.

Nine individuals won places on the 1960 All-Conference football team. Don Dyer, Don Bartoni and Karl Evans made the first team offense berth. Those awarded first team defense position were Don Bartoni, Karl Evans, Dennis Garrison, Dick Livingston and David Taggart.

are instilled with valor by coaches

Laboring diligently, the coaches instilled team spirit and sportsmanship. They aspired to make football a character building experience for the participating boys. Long hours were expended discussing strategy in chalk talks and perfecting these plays in practice before execution in a game. Their efforts were rewarded in the final triumph of winning the Pony Express Championship.

Following the tie with Raytown, Head Coach Norman James received the Coach of the Week award. Later in the year he was distinguished by the Independence Examiner Coach of the Year award. The superior training both he and his assistant coaches did instructing the boys in the finer points of football tactics was evident in the outstanding seasonal results.

Name Mr. School Spirit

Annually, three senior boys are nominated by the Pep club as outstanding representatives of both their class and William Chrisman. These nominees must have active participation and interest in school activities, a congenial personality and deep interest in all school functions, as well as being cooperative with their instructors and families. Nominees this year were Joe Higgins, John Witherspoon and Ronnie Wright. The student body elected Ronnie Wright as its representative of Chrisman spirit.

The Chrisman Bears were tied for first place in the Pony Express Conference at the close of the basketball season. They won 16 games and lost five. Central of St. Joseph was their Nemesis.

Chrisman averaged 53.3 in offensive play and 43.3 defensive play. Opponents were defeated by an average of nine points per game.

Mike Mattox averaging 17 points per game was the leading man in shooting field goals, accumulating a record of 49 per cent.

Tom Haas led the team with free throws by averaging 70 per cent.

Mike Johnson contributed 12.2 points per game just ahead of Dick Mueller's 7.8 average.

William Chrisman's student council is a organization which enables students to take an active part in student government. The student council officer works with a group of representatives in Budget, Finance, Activities, Exchanges and Activities committees. Student council begins its first meeting on new teachers Tuesday, August 30, in the Dyson cafeteria at 8 a.m. A student council project at Division 1 for the past two years has been to raise money for strawberry around the school. This year it was completed.

The Beartown committee plans the decorations, music, and posters for all the Beartowns of the school year. Beartowns are an important part of the students' activities. The members are Linda Glispey (chairman), Sharan Hinninger, Jeonne Braxdale, Cissy Jett and Judy Bryant in the front row; Ron Schuler, Jane Bracht, Pat Himes, Sharon Conyers and Denny Haxer in the back row.

The activities committee is in charge of advertising the sports events and other activities of the student council. The members are Gail Elliott (chairman), Joyce Gosney, Nancy Beeney, Mary Jo Campbell in the front row; David Hickerson, Scott Turrentine and Tom Smelser in the back row. Charles Martin was absent.

Student council busy with activities

Guiding their fellow classmates the representatives and officers of the Division II student council have been busy with many and various duties during the course of the school year. Leading the student assembly as well as their organization were: president, Sherry O'Dell; vice-president, Vaughn North; secretary, Patti Allen, treasurer, Felicia Sooper, parliamentarian, Karen Huhn. The vice-president last summer attended the Student Council Workshop held in Columbia, Missouri.

Activities in which the government body participated were: a party for new students, election of class officers, the mock general election for the student body, bundle day, the competition of indigent children by homerooms at Christmas and the spring election of student council officers to represent a few. Representatives served the Parent-Teacher Association by ushering to their meetings and back to school night.

Assembly programs, assignment of impecunious families to homerooms and the decoration of display cases were all tasks allocated to the student council under the sponsorship of Mrs. Pallas Cockerell and David Yahnig, counselor.

Studying a Student Council Handbook to learn more about the efficient operation of the student council are Sherry O'Dell, Karen Huhn, Vaughn North and Felicia Sooper.

Fun lends interest to study of French

French club urges study of the French language and people in addition to the regular academic requirements. To supplement speaking, reading and writing the language as taught in class, the French club purchased records to be used by French students to gain the advantage of hearing French as it is spoken in homeland. To read everyday French, rather than the exemplary speech of the textbook, the organization subscribed to France Amerique, a French newspaper.

Library assistants are examining reference materials to prepare to serve others more efficiently.

At Division II students first become acquainted with basic library procedure. They soon learn to help other, less familiar students, to use library facilities efficiently. Evident to visitors, members of the Division II Library club endeavor to make this vital place of study more pleasant and convenient for use.

An outstanding characteristic of these diligent workers is their devotion to duty, the cheerfulness with which even disagreeable tasks are performed, and the accuracy of their work, considering the quantity of books handled and the age of the assistants.

Their assistance aids in research

At William Chrisman High School Library Club meets monthly. It is organized to assist and aid these members. During the first meeting of the month the club's most immediate task is helping students to use the library efficiently. Services rendered are the shelving of books, arranging of periodicals and research material, preparing new books for use and the checking in and out of books.

Assisting the librarian, Mrs. Piper, students freely offer one hour of their school day. They assist students and faculty in finding material concerning current affairs.

R. Cowert, T. Dobbins, S. Clifton, R. Conus, J. Davies are appraising new books.

Obtaining new ideas from a Red Cross Youth Journal are Pat Petersen,
David Epperson, Gloria Bain, and Lavina Khoely DeWaese

Students of Division II displayed a definite interest in the needs of others by electing and supporting a representative body of the Junior Red Cross. Their ~~unselfish~~ efforts strengthened the purpose of Junior Red Cross. Officers were elected to direct the organization: president, Gloria Bain; vice-president, David Epperson; secretary, Lavina Khoely; treasurer, Laura Heinlein.

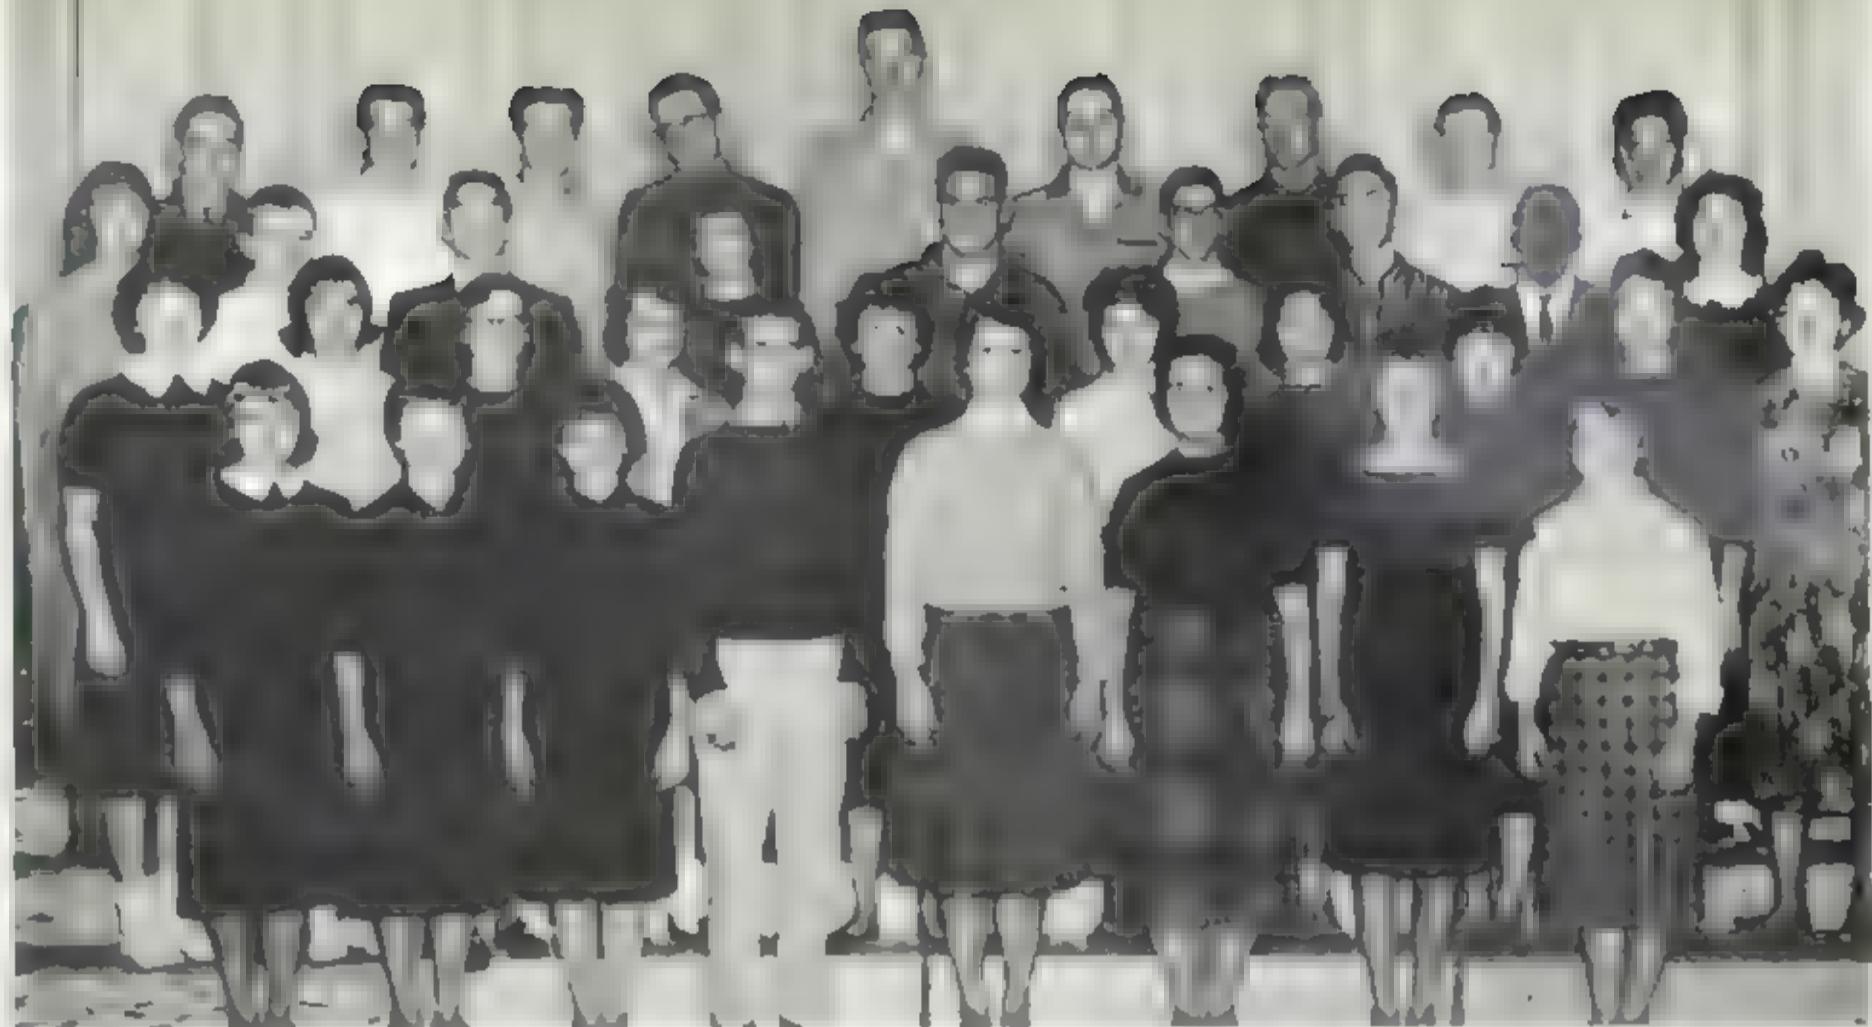

Activities of the club were many and varied; among them were making nut cups for Valentines, making an album for foreign exchange, and sending a delegation to the local training center. With Division I, the members constructed a float for the local Halloween Merchants' parade. The float took second prize in its category. The foremost concern of the Junior Red Cross is service to the needy and aid to the unfortunate. Total collaboration of its members made fulfillment of their goal feasible.

international insight and cogency

Advising the club was the Junior Red Cross representative Bev L. Easton Sharon Kerr Steve McNeil Kathy Carpenter and Nancy Brown

Members of Junior Red Cross at Division 1 stayed throughout the year to present their program to the students.

Representatives from each division worked in unity in helping less fortunate people the world over. They presented the following number to officiate during the year. They were president Nancy Brown, vice president Steve McNeil, secretary reporter Sharon Kerr and treasurer/parliamentarian Kathy Carpenter.

Junior Red Cross is set apart from other organizations in that its activities are for the benefit of others rather than their own enjoyment. All participants in the club have no affairs and local events.

In the course of the year the representatives saw the entire student body, the senior class, the staff, the students, stockups for the Veterans Hospital, the Marching Fund Drive and in making and finding out about gift certificates.

Art clubs at both Divisions display

Putting up posters for the Art club bazaar were: Mary Plucker, Larry Cleveland, Natalie Graff and Karen Lightfoot

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Janice Malott the Division II Art club has gained a renewed vigor in the pursuit of aesthetic fulfillment. Following this line of pursuit the Art club travelled to the Art Institute of the University of Kansas in Lawrence, Kansas. Officiating for the organization were: president, Larry Pitts; vice-president, Karen Lightfoot; secretary, Mary Plucker, treasurer Natalie Graff; parliamentarian, Valerie Williams sergeant-at-arms, Larry Cleveland; and reporter, Peggy Lynch. They expedited business-like and efficient meetings and redrafted the old constitution.

Each year the building at William Chrisman Division I has taken on a Christmas atmosphere when the Art club has decorated the halls and the windows. However, this is only one of the many activities of Art club. Another activity which has been a year round project is using the work of the art classes for display in show cases throughout the school. Art club often contributes posters for dances, plays and after school activities.

As a money-making project the organization sponsors an annual dance for the student body, held in the Division I gym. They also sell Chrisman pennants and make field trips to the University of Kansas and Warrensburg art departments.

Guiding all of their projects is Mrs Eichhorn, art teacher. For student leadership their officers are: president Linda Glispey; vice-president, John Witherspoon; secretary, Doris Chapple; treasurer, Joye Williams; and reporter, John Van Camp

'M' club provides opportunity for athletically inclined girls to improve their skills. Throughout the year girls toiled faithfully to gain proficiency in sportsdays held in competition with other schools. Their efforts were well rewarded as they placed first at the Shawnee Mission North volleyball sportsday; the club took first place in tennis and the "B" team volleyball at the Warrensburg sportsday. A class "B" softball team managed by Miss Wilson placed second in the greater Kansas City class "B" tournament.

The club enjoyed many socials including an initiation party at Lake Lotawana and a hamburger fry at Miss Wilson's home. The organization planned and held a banquet honoring its seniors. "M" club seniors gave an hour each day as student assistants for the girls' gym classes. A maximum of twelve senior club members served as student assistants for physical education classes.

Discussing new ideas to the club are M. McColl, D. Garrison, W. Arnold, T. Haskins.

Boys who excel in the field of sports form the ranks of membership in C Club. Super athletes who received varsity letters in one of the major sports - football, basketball, or track were honored by C Club.

The main concern of the club was to further the athletic program in William Crisman and to create better atmosphere at games among the students. The organization received money from ticket sales and sponsored the annual C Club Faculty basketball game.

Finances of the club are dispersed in various ways. The principal expenditure of each year is the purchasing of new uniforms and up-to-date equipment for the teams. The C Club also presented Helge Rasmussen an exchange student with activity passes for the year. This year it has been voted to purchase a camera for accurate coverage of the games.

As-You-Like-It Dramatic Society

The officers are putting the finishing touches on their gift for her help during the year. They are Carmen Duncan, Pat Rowe and Donna Boone.

Sponsored by Mrs. Phyllis Moore, the As-You-Like-It Dramatic Society activities for the year have included: a Christmas party for underprivileged children at Benton elementary school, an all society cook party for prospective members, the formal initiation of the pledges, participation in all SHAN activities, a moneymaking spaghetti dinner, the Mother Daughter tea and the Fall Daughter bird and the Senior banquet.

Serving as first semester officers are president, Pat Rowe; vice-president, Donna Boone; secretary, Carmen Duncan; treasurer, Mary Jo Campbell reporter Nancy Saunders, parliamentarian-chaplain, Gail Elliott.

Indicative of community interest, girls of the As-You-Like-It Dramatic society helped at the Cerebral Palsy Day Care Center during the summer. In recognition of this work the society was presented with a citation and the participating girls with individual awards.

Accumulating the most points in the SHAN contest, the As-You-Like-It Dramatic society was presented with the SHAN trophy.

Forty-five Chrisman girls who were interested in service to the community and a sense of the wider existence of close association with girls of similar interests formed the Shakespearean Literary Society. A Chrisman party for underprivileged children presented a fine example of this concern. Other activities in which the society engaged were: a cake sale, the writing of the Shakespearean Literary Society, service prophecy for the benefit of alumnae at Mother Day, the tea and Junior-Senior banquet.

The formal induction of new officers provided the society with the following slate of first-semester officers: president, Sherri Minton; vice-president, Gerry Dugger; secretary, Shirley Mesle; treasurer, Kathy Carpenter; Reporter, Shirley Graff and parliamentarian-chaplain, Patt Roach.

As participants in the SHAN organization members of the society attended the Chrisman and spring SHAN dance. An integral part of the activities of the organization are the literary contests which precede each SHAN dance. In the 1960 Christmas competition, Shakespearean members earned several of the prizes offered, including three awards in the poetry category. The organization serves to strengthen the girls' cultural interests.

Kay Johnson, Sherri Minton, and Kathy Carpenter, officers for the first semester, presented Hugo Rinholm with his certificate at the first semester assembly.

Seniors acquire occupational skills

Offering its members the opportunity to earn money to further their education while getting valuable experience is the objective of the Outstanding Education Club at North Christian.

Working in close cooperation with other clubs members have been sent to the Delegates meeting in Jefferson City, Missouri, and state contests. These trips are tax-free. Our location between communities of 200,000, making the opportunity for social activities at the year in the Emporia area unbarred.

The officers for this year have been president John Dissen, vice president first term Jerry Hess, vice president second term Ted Jones, vice president third term Carlene Martin, secretary Kito Street, treasurer Dennis Peters, reporter Terry Scanlon.

Long winded Pep clubbers prepare for a money making project

With a lot increase from one hundred to one hundred-twenty members the interests of Pep club also expanded. New uniforms were purchased for the cheerleaders — blue skirts and gold sweaters. Additional uniforms were ordered to accommodate the expansion of the club. Uniforms for the yell leaders, a new innovation to the wearers of the blue and gold, were designed to utilize culottes of former cheerleaders. This group, outstanding at William Chrisman, was sponsored by Miss Dorothy Bierbaum at Division one, with aid from Miss Patricia Snyder at Division II. Phylis Weeks led the entire organization as Pep club president. Each of the other posts were held by two girls, for the two division respectively. At Division I the officers were: vice-president, Donna Boone; secretary, Gail Elliott; treasurer, Sherri Allen; parliamentarian, Nancy Brown; and reporter-historian, Judy Travestino. Holding these offices at Division II were vice-president, Dana Austin; secretary, Judy Gosney; treasurer, Ann Mesle; parliamentarian, Charlene Wasem; and reporter-historian, Sally Fullerton.

Money was raised through several projects, the principal one being a magazine sale. This was favored because it is a business which grows each year as customer lists are increased. Balloon pennants were sold at football games for a small profit, and both football and basketball seasons brought concessions money.

Last summer money was spent to send the cheerleaders, accompanied by Miss Bierbaum, to Norman, Oklahoma, to a cheerleading clinic. This program is meant to provide experience for the cheerleaders and to develop their skills to a higher degree.

As the backbone of athletic school spirit, Pep club maintains a position as the only traveling Pep club in the area. They planned and carried out football and basketball homecomings; the election of a Mr. School Spirit, the symbol of school spirit personified in a senior boy who incites spirit of the finest quality. For these special games, the Pep club drill team marched.

Acquire useful commercial techniques

Carol Allish, vice-president of the club, dictates recommendations for the next meeting to Barbara McFadden and Ronnie Beal

Providing an opportunity for students to become more closely acquainted with various phases of the business world suggested the purpose of the William Christian Commercial club. Any junior or senior student having an interest in the commercial field was eligible for membership.

The officers of the club during the 1960-61 school year were: president, Ronnie Kay Beal; vice-president, Carol Allish; secretary, Barbara McFadden; treasurer, Patsy Gosney; and reporter, Sherri Clifton. Miss Jessie Page, typewriting instructor sponsored the organization.

Functions of the club included: a speech on commercial law opportunities presented by a prominent Independence attorney; a trip to the Burroughs Corporation, manufacturer of commercial machines; the annual candy sale; and game concessions. The main project of the organization, performed annually, was to sponsor a project to buy some useful teaching aid for the commercial department. Helge Rinholm, foreign Exchange student, spoke of Norwegian schools and displayed samples of his school publication at an informal meeting. The Commercial club promoted an interest in commerce which will profit its members long after high school.

One of the largest clubs at W. T. Chrisman is the Future Teachers of America. Its purpose is to interest students in the various fields of education and to encourage them to enter the teaching profession.

The activities of the club are numerous. The principal one is the annual "Visitation Day" when members are given an opportunity to visit and do practice teaching in the elementary schools of Independence. This year the club has sponsored a drive, a candy sale, "Observation Week" which is held at Ott grade school and attendance at the Missouri State Teachers Meeting.

At the close of the year, a $100 scholarship is awarded to the most promising senior in F.T.A. who is planning to become a teacher.

The officers have been present as follows: President, Sherri Minton; vice-president, Kary Carpenter; treasurer, Kay Johnson; reporter, Donna Boone. Mrs. Florence Brush is the sponsor.

New horizons are represented as an integral part of the organization's goal. Judy Sanders, Mary Jacobs, Donna Shouse, Nancy Taft and Diane Chaney exhibit the emblem of this national organization.

Future Homemakers of America strive to become accomplished in domestic skills. Mrs. Mary Robinson and Mrs. LeAnna Tedrick directed them and added their experience to the manifest values of practice. Color coordination, appropriateness of style and other fine points were learned, as well as the essentials of meal planning, cooking and serving.

Officers this year were: president, Diane Chaney; vice-president, Judy Sanders; secretary, Donna Shouse, treasurer, Nancy Taft.

To broaden their scope in homemaking an educational trip was taken. Money-making projects were held to sponsor this trip.

The aim of the William Chrisman Division I Science club is to advance interest in science and to acquaint members with the career opportunities offered in the scientific field.

To further this goal, the members of the club have taken field trips to the James A. Reed Wildlife Area, to Midwest Research Institute and other scientific industries. These activities were supplemented with lectures by guest speakers. A Christmas party and a car wash for the purpose of raising money were among the year's projects.

Officiating for the club were: president, Allan Doty; vice-president, Danetta Austin; secretary-treasurer, Judith Hurshman; reporter, Charles Zerr.

National Forensic League is an honor society for which speech students must qualify. Entry to the organization is awarded when a specified number of points have been earned. Such points may be earned by activity in speech work speaking in assemblies, dramatic participation in tournaments. However most members of the William Christian chapter gained their points by participating in debates.

Activities begin early in the fall with the annual speech play. The profits of this play are utilized in financing the debaters' trips to various tournaments. During the year, between twelve and fifteen such tournaments are attended in preparation for the State tournament in the spring. These tournaments include debate, interpretation, oratory and extemporaneous speaking as their main events.

Success in the State tournament is followed by the National tournament, usually in June. The debate team of last year won the sweepstakes at the tournament, and Miss Margaret Mead, N.F.L. sponsor and speech teacher, was named debate coach of the year.

Ralph Beckmann, Don Boone, and Barbara Kiser initiate new members into the Quill and Scroll Society.

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary society for high school journalists encourages and rewards individual achievement in journalism and its allied fields. It is an honor society, and has active participation in raising the standards of high school journalism.

The selective membership of the organization demands that students be of junior or senior classification, in the upper third of their class scholastically, have completed outstanding work in journalism, be recommended by the publications adviser and be approved by the secretary-treasurer of the society. Membership in the society is a cherished goal for all members of the publication staffs.

Miss Sarah Ellen Campbell, publications adviser, sponsors the William Chrisman chapter of Quill and Scroll. Officers elected for this honor society are president, Donna Boone; vice-president, Ralph Beckmann; secretary-treasurer, Sherri Allen.

Principal activities for the year are the formal initiation in conjunction with National Honor Society and participation in the annual publications dinner.

Thespians advance dramatic standards

In 1943 the National Thespian society was organized at Chrisman for those students who have worked on school theatrical productions. These students receive points based on their dramatic activities. The purpose of the society is to promote and raise the standards of dramatics in the school. After a student has become a member he continues to increase his points by continual service in dramatics.

The officers: president, John Witherspoon; vice president, Phylis Weeks; secretary, Charlotte Dieckman and treasurer, Joan Pyper strived to attain their goal for the dramatic activities of the school.

Coke parties, one-act plays and a trip to the Regional convention in St. Louis were the main activities of the club. The coke parties were held for the casts of all of the speech productions of both divisions.

Diary of Anne Frank

Produced as the 1960-61 speech play was The Diary of Anne Frank. Miss Margaret Meredith directed the play which raised money for the tournament trips made by the debate teams.

Telling the story of a young girl's two years spent in an attic hideaway, a refuge from the grim police, the Nazis, Anne Frank describes many human emotions: love, hate, compassion, anger and fear. Fear ran throughout the story, prevailing in the thoughts and actions of all the characters.

The Franks are Jews timidly returning to the attic for protection from the Nazis. Shortly another family and another man moved in, for there was little room anywhere for a Jew. Tension and taut reflexes were strained from the closeness of the living quarters. The group held the joyous ceremony of Hanukkah, though they were fearful of the Nazis. Soon Anne and Peter Van Daan fell in love and sought consolation in each other. The Nazis came — and only Mr. Frank survived the war. Sherri Allen and Cheryl Slusher were double-cast in the role of Anne; the other members of her family were: Mike Soper as Mr. Frank, Kay Johnson as Mrs. Frank, Libby Johnson as Margot, her sister, David Horn as Mr. Van Daan, Phylis Weeks as Mrs. Van Daan and John Newhouse as Peter composed the second family. Ronald Mormon as Mr. Kraler, Nicky Burge as Mr. Dussel and Jackie Boetjer as Miep were other members of the cast.

Student directors for the production were Chris Fullerton and Johanna Tousley

As Joye Williams paints and pouts, Judy Hurshman, Phylis Weeks and Nancy Beeney listen appreciatively to Gerald Webb and Jerry Lund, musicians of the Cloisters

The Curious Savage

John Witherspoon writes a retraction of his mother's commitment as his sister and brother, Charlotte Norman and Gary Horner, wait with greed to learn the whereabouts of the Savage fortune.

A comedy with thought behind it, The Curious Savage, was the 1961 senior play. It presents a sharp contrast from a world dominated by greed in the receded world of the Cloisters, a selective mental institution in upstate Massachusetts. Five inmates, played by Jerry Lund, Nancy Beeney, Gerald Webb, Judy Hurshman and Joye Williams, represented the inner world. Mrs. Savage, a role shared by Phylis Weeks and Donna Boone, and the hospital staff composed of Virginia Ingram and Ed Mitchell form the bridge from the insane to the sane world in which Gary Horner, Charlotte Norman and John Witherspoon, the Savage children, are a part. Throughout the play there is strife between the two worlds, and, as Dr. Emmett says, "I find it harder every day to say just where reason ends and madness begins."

Five and a half weeks of arduous work culminated in three nights of entertainment for students and members of the Independence community. The direction of Miss Dorothy Bierbaum made this entertainment possible.

M. O. Johnson directs his band as it plays "Cranberry Corners U.S.A." Their costumes indicate that they are also accomplished chefs.

Picking up the beat was a combo band composed of Jim Schooler on the drums, Frank Brown on the Bass Sonny Williams on the flute

Band members gambol and frolic

With the aid of David Horn, master of ceremonies, an interplanetary host, the twelfth annual William Christian band show got off to a rousing start Friday, January 20. The theme was "Around the World with Music."

The Elementary Schools Honors Band, a group of outstanding fifth and sixth graders, under the direction of Mr. John Conrick, played "The American Patrol" and "Manhattan Beach, March."

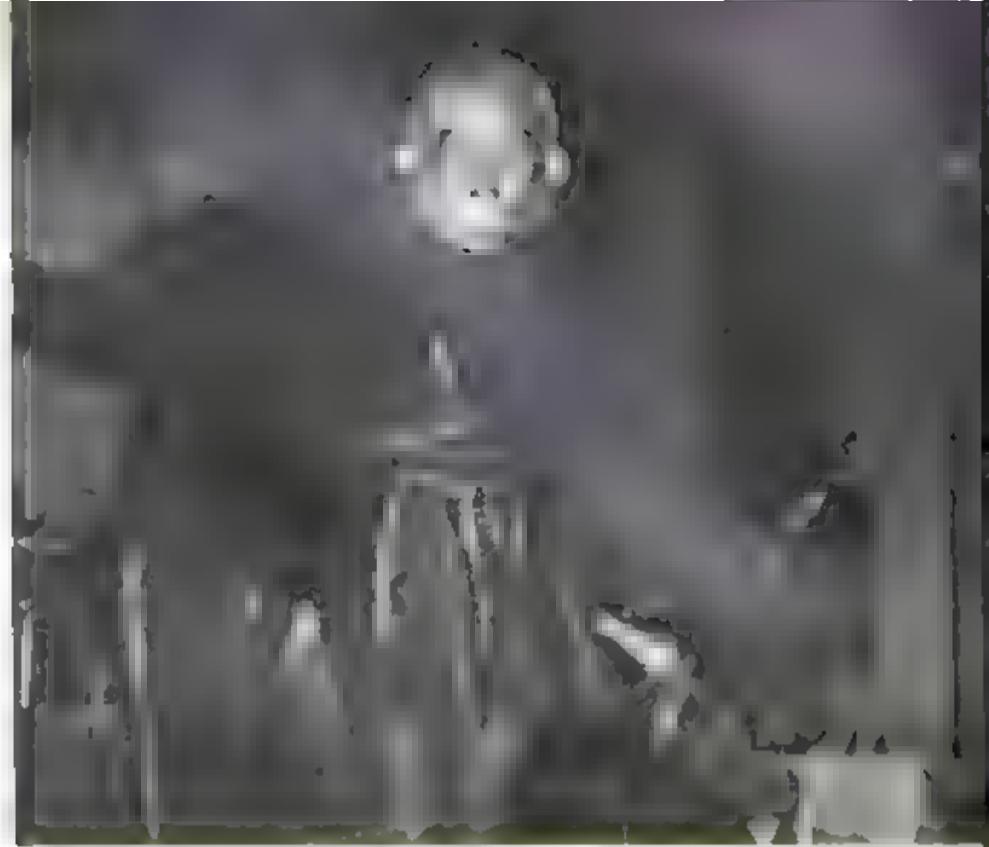

The a cappella choir, directed by Mr. Gene Kelsay and accompanied by Kay Johnson and Sherry Mesle, presented selections from the Broadway show, "The Sound of Music." S. Minton and M. Soper examine the plaque on which their names are engraved with other winners.

Five girls in Journalism I classes brought home the traveling trophy from the ninth annual Greater Kansas City area publications conference held September 24, 1960 at the University of Kansas City. They accumulated 15 points which gave them a two point lead over the second place winner, North Kansas City.

Mary Garrison and Chris Fullerton placed first in two categories of newspaper writing, while Pam Richardson, Sharon Hieronymus and Linda Willard took three firsts in writing various types of yearbook copy.

Mary won her honor by writing a news story; Chris in advertising; Pam in writing yearbook body copy, Sharon in yearbook headline writing, Linda in yearbook cutline writing.

Mike Soper and Sherri Minton, seniors, were named outstanding boy and girl at William Chrisman in honor of Youth Appreciation week, a project sponsored by Optimist International.

November 14-18 was declared Youth Appreciation week. Special projects were undertaken in connection with the observance. Wednesday, November 16, Dick King, an outstanding junior debater and orator spoke at the regular Optimist club luncheon to initiate the proceedings for Youth week.

Thursday, November 17, was declared Youth in Government day with students taking over as city officials with the cooperation of Mayor William H. Sermon.

Friday, November 18, Spark Arnold and Dennis Garrison, co-captains of the William Chrisman Bears, accompanied Don Benton, Independence Optimist club president to the Greater Kansas City Optimist club luncheon at the Pickwick Hotel.

The week-long observance terminated Friday evening, November 18, with a youth rally and dance. Emma Jo Robinson, senior, was crowned queen at this time. She was selected by the student body for the honor. Her attendants were Charlotte Dieckman, senior, and Sandy Phillips and Carol Luther, juniors. Outstanding youth and youth organizations were recognized at this rally.

Yearbook staff records 60-61 history

During the past two years, members of the 1961 yearbook staff have been planning and editing the 1961 yearbook. Training in yearbook procedure and proper methods was first required. When essential principles of form were learned, work on the yearbook itself began. The members were assigned specific tasks for which they were to be responsible. The portions on which respective members worked were: introductory section, S. Allen and C. Norman; administration section, N. Brown and C. Allish, class section, G. Graham, J. Harrington and C. Ryan, activity section D. Chapple, Departments section, N. Etter and M. J. Cahoon; sports section, J. Van Camp and J. Witherspoon; copywriting, J. Travostino and B. Ellis; typists, G. Elliott, N. Brown, D. Chapple and S. Allen; index, C. Norman

Newspaper staff brings bi-weekly news

Envoy staff members prepare the copy for the bi-weekly paper. This includes gathering news, writing the copy, copyreading and writing headlines. When the galley proofs are returned by the printer, the staff pastes the proofs on their various pages to make the page layout for the printer.

The Envoy staff members are seniors who have learned the techniques of newspaper writing and production during their junior year. They prepare a more detailed history of the school year. They also learn business methods by selling subscriptions and advertising to finance the paper.

These office helpers prove to be helpful aids in the office during the busy day at division. Their duties encompass collecting attendance cards, recording the cafeteria count from each homeroom, delivering messages to faculty and students and executing the many other obligations of a school office.

Student assistance eases office load

Nancy Brannock, Sharon Kerr, Mrs. Rose B. Adams, Roy Deason and Carl Pottner perform necessary duties as office help at Division 1 to aid in keeping the busy schedule at Chrisman moving smoothly. Their duties include collecting attendance cards, alphabetizing cards and placing them on the board, filing attendance cards in teachers' boxes, delivering messages to students and teachers, showing visitors to destination, helping record attendance and tardies, filing admission and tardy slips and performing the varied duties necessary from time to time.

scriptions to the annual, ring orders and underclassmen pictures. After learning the techniques of yearbook production, the first semester, each student plans a complete dummy for an annual during the third quarter.

The fourth quarter, staff members plan and execute many of the details of their yearbook for the coming year.

They learn journalistic techniques

Newspaper I students count money collected for Envoy subscriptions and write receipts for subscribers. This is just one of many duties learned and performed by them. Class members pictured are: FRONT ROW: Judy Rosenbaum, Jeanne Allen, Marilyn Kinser, Cissy Jett. SECOND ROW: James Carter, Jerry Cope, Jim Oshel, Sandy Phillips. BACK ROW: Dennis Crull, Chris Fullerton, Carolyn Creel, Jim Sheetz.

Mary Garrison, Cheryl Rogers, James Carter, Jerry Cope, Sandy Phillips, Dennis Crull and Jim Sheetz dropped from class. Ronnie Hancock entered the class the second semester. Newspaper I students study and learn the correct method of editing a school paper. They gain business experience by selling subscriptions and advertising.

Thanks for the Memories

Thanks for the memories
Of crowds in Chrisman halls,
Lockers much too small,
Though we've complained about them
Now we'll miss them all in all,
So thank you so much.

Thanks for the memories
Of friendships we have gained,
Terms we have acclaimed,
Honors and achievements
That our classmates have attained.
Oh, thank you so much.

Weekends brought games
And cheers and laughter
Each summer was spent
In work or play,
Tournaments and dances and assemblies
Will we have fun at Chrisman.

So, thanks for the memories —
The senior dance and plays
Now graduation day,
Our high school days are ended,
And we must be on our way,
So farewell to you.
